MISSION

Noc Anglistów is an evening full of lectures, workshops and presentations prepared by English teachers from all over Poland. This is a unique event whose main goal is to show the scientific potential of English studies in Poland and to dispel the myth that studying English is only about language learning.

Participation in all events is free for everyone, but you will be required to sign up for some events. We encourage you to follow our website and fanpage!

Information on how to sign up for live lectures (available on MS Teams/Zoom) should be available in the event description. If it's not, we assure you it is going to be updated soon. Anyone interested can also contact the event coordinator at a particular university -- contact information is available on the website.
